DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1 - 11, drawn to a method of inducing or enhancing Granzyme B production.

Group II, claims 12, 13, 22, and 23, drawn to methods of treating tumor cells using NK cells.

Group III, claims 14, 15, 21, 22, and 23, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising Granzyme B.

Group IV, claims 16 – 20 and 24, drawn to methods of treating tumor cells contacting them with Granzyme B.

Group V, claims 16 – 20 and 24, drawn to methods of treating viral or bacterial infections using Granzyme B.

Group VI, claims 16 – 20 and 24, drawn to methods of treating inflammatory diseases using Granzyme B.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I - VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The peptide sequence that is comprised by the carboxy-terminal end of the Hsp70 protein, SEQ ID NO: 1, is not a contribution over the art. This peptide and the use of it to stimulate natural killer (NK) cell activity is taught by Multhoff, G. (2002) in patent document WO/2002/022656.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The fragments of protein Hsp70 and (poly)peptides comprising the subsequence SEQ ID NO: 1.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The species are explicitly claimed in independent claims and claims depending from them.

The following claims are generic: 1 – 11 of Group I; claims 12 – 13 of Group II.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The functional structure of the peptides or proteins recited in the claims, SEQ ID NO: 1, is not a contribution over the art. The carboxy-terminal end of the Hsp70 protein, SEQ ID NO: 1, is known in the art, as is the use of it to stimulate natural killer (NK) cell activity, as taught by Multhoff, G. (2002) in patent document WO/2002/022656.

6. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The diseases or medical conditions to be treated, which are: tumors, viral or bacterial infections, and inflammatory diseases.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The inventions are drawn to the treatment of a number of non-overlapping medical conditions having widely divergent causes, etiologies and patient populations that are not expected to coincide or overlap.

The following claims are generic: 14 - 24 of Groups II - IV.

8. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The diseases and medical conditions recited in the claims are not common to the claim set as a whole. Group I is drawn to a method of stimulating cells, including in vitro and ex vivo, with no reference to diseases per se. The species of medical conditions and diseases differ in the root causes of the conditions, with cancer, microbial infection and inflammatory (including auto-immune) diseases having little in common that would lead one to assume that they would overlap.

Inventorship

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Rejoinder

10. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Conclusion

11. No claims are allowed.
